SIMWARS

WHERE SKILLS MEET REALITY, WHO WILL BE THE CHAMPIONS?

WHAT IS SIMWARS?

Simulation-Based Emergency Crisis Competition

SIMWARS is a live, team-based emergency medicine simulation competition where participants manage realistic emergency scenarios under time pressure.

It tests how a team performs in a crisis — not only what they know, but how they think, act, communicate, lead, and work together.

WHY SIMWARS?

- Realistic emergency scenarios
- Team-based crisis management
- Time-bound clinical decision-making
- Practical resuscitation-focused learning
- Leadership and communication under pressure
- Safe simulation environment with expert assessment
- Competitive, high-energy academic experience

WHO SHOULD PARTICIPATE?

Ideal for:

- Emergency Medicine residents and trainees
- Junior doctors working in Emergency Departments
- Medical Officers involved in acute care
- Residents / fellows from EM, Critical Care, or allied acute care specialties

WHAT WILL BE TESTED?

Teams may be assessed on:

- Rapid assessment and prioritisation
- Recognition of life-threatening emergencies
- Resuscitation and emergency management
- Airway, breathing, circulation and disability approach
- Team leadership and role allocation
- Closed-loop communication
- Crisis-resource management
- Reassessment and patient safety
- Overall team performance

THE SPIRIT OF SIMWARS

Think fast. Act together. Lead under pressure. Save the virtual life.
